the electionists of the grand stand.

The groans of disapproval heard when Demoval took his place in the pitcher's box were turned to shouls of glee, and the shouls from the bleachers were musically glad. In the fourth inning, however, it became evident that a Jonah had crept into the grounds.

Mr. Canill thinks his team will be strong enough to cope successfully with Springfield today.

Tonight the club will leave for Buffalo, where it will play Sunday, Monday and Tuesday. Wednesday and Tuesday are defended in the factor of the grounds and Saturday at Binghauaton, provided the should be s that a Jonah had crept into the grounds | the latter club lasts that long. unseen. The Springfields bracel up and the cripples staggered under the avalanche, as the score will show,

Two local players, Wirth and Moran, were Scranton uniforms. Wirth played third base and Moran was stationed in left field. Wirth made several commendable efforts, but it was evident from the start that Moran was playing for his release. The crowd seemed disposed to encore the players in the wrong place and he topped off the amusing performance by refusing to run in the last inning after having made a base hit.. The game was enjoyable for its amateurish freshness and was in many respects nulike anythis season. The following is the score:

WANTS SWIFT TO EXPLAIN

Director Davitt Beliaves That It Is Due to Him.

Mr. Davitt, one of the directors of the Scranton Base Ball association, is not well pleased with the remark that the Republican credits Martin Swift with having made after the meeting of the directors of the Base Ball association Wednesday night, at which Mr. Swift was deposed as manager. Ac-cording to the Republican Mr. Swift stated that Mr. Davitt was under many bligations to him and that he (Swift) would compel Mr. Davitt to humble himself to him. To a TRIBUNE reporter gesterday Mr. Davitt said:

"I would like to have an explanation o from Mr. Swift concerning what he meant by those remarks. They reflect on my character and put me in a pad light before this community. I have always been one of Mr. Swift's most ardent admirers and did all that I consistently could to retain him in the position of manager."

HOOSON'S GREAT WORK

He Sp lags at Once Into Popularity at Boston.

The Philadelphia papers speak as follows of Pitcher Hodson's work for Boston against Philadelphia at the Hub on Thursday:

Inquirer.—Captain Boyle had to be content with only one game in Boston.
He counted on getting at least two, but fooling the hard hitting Quakers to a pitcher today, and he showed himself worthy to be in such strong company.

The game was too one-sided to be interesting even to the friends of the champions. Young Hodson kept the Philadelphians from bunching their hits and good fielding on the part of the others did the rest. The champious, on the other hand, kept the ball and the fielders on the jamp and fattened up their batting averages at Taylor's ex-Times-The champions presente! their new pitcher, Hodson, today and he put up a game that won for him a place at once in the hearts of the lovers of the game in this city. The heavyhitting Quakers were no mean oppo-nents for a young man in a strange city to go up against, but this young man from Pennsylvania not only went and after he saw the latter perform in the up against Iewin's singgers, but threw Eiter Root stud stakes, but the offer was them in the soup boiling hot.
